Website Customisation & Client Information Checklist

Project brief & priorities

A client-ready checklist for replacing reference-site information with your company's approved content.

Project	Marwadi website / final business name: _____
Prepared on	26 October 2026
Client / company	_____
Primary contact	Name: _____ Phone: _____
Content approver	Name: _____ Email: _____
Target launch date	_____

Purpose

Keep the approved website layout and replace the reference company's branding, content, people, figures, links and documents with information approved for your own business. This document records the information to supply and the changes to complete.

Agreed website scope

Login; Open an Account; Become a Partner; About (Who We Are, Our History, Leadership); Products (Derivatives, Commodities, Third Party Products, IPO, Portfolio Management Services); Our Services (Research and Advisory, Margin Trading, Offline Trading, Call on Trade, Smart Portfolio Management); Contact Us; live market display.

Current implementation

The local Laravel website uses the reference site's blue-and-white layout. App promotion sections and app-store download buttons have been removed. Account and partnership forms currently save enquiries; SMS/OTP, account activation and email notifications are not connected. The live market display currently depends on the reference provider.

Priority information to send first

- ☐ Company name, legal name, logo and final colour preference.
- ☐ Office address, phone/WhatsApp number and business email.
- ☐ About Us copy, leadership profiles and verified business figures.
- ☐ Approved product/service information and your portal/onboarding links.
- ☐ Social profiles, website domain, hosting and final content approver.

Status convention: To supply = client input required; To update = implementation required; To approve = review required. Items can be marked Not applicable when the client confirms they are not needed.

Supply original company information and confirm every claim before it is published.

The current content includes reference-company information. Its years of experience, client totals, branch counts, employee figures and leadership details must not be treated as confirmed information about your business.

Offline Trading uses the reference service-page styling with locally written support text because the reference site has no separate page for it. Please review that copy with the other service descriptions.

The current account and partner forms save local enquiries; they do not complete account activation. Replace reference-company login destinations with your own approved links. Select your own approved market-feed arrangement before relying on independent operation.

Do not put passwords, API keys, identity documents or private account credentials into this document. Arrange a secure access method separately when configuration requires it.

Use this final checklist to confirm ownership, accuracy and readiness for public release.

- ☐ Confirm approved legal documents and support contacts are linked in the right places.

Final review before launch

- ☐ All requested pages contain approved company content; no unsupported claims remain.
- ☐ All images/videos are approved and available; app promotions remain removed.

- ☐ Domain, HTTPS, production settings, database backups and maintenance ownership are confirmed.
